My cat Reno

By Kathy HL

One of the best books I've read. For everyone who's ever lost a loved pet, this is just part of the book, but to me, I had not only just lost a loved cat named Reno, but the book helped me through it. Reno stayed long after he passed. letting me know he was still around. you just need to listen and be aware.....and be comforted. Everyone is as different as their own beliefs, these are just mine.

Worth Reading

By Darshay

Animal communicators are fascinating. Compassionate people have a rough time in this world, this reminded me I am not the only one who struggles. I found her story interesting. I have been an animal guardian my whole life and have used several animal communicators. They are absolutely indispensable at times especially when the pet is sick and you don't know what he or she needs This book is worth reading for any animal guardian.

Losing my big beautiful Romeo.

By Cheryl Gibbons

I just lost my beloved cat Romeo at only 5 years old. He died in his sleep, and wasn't sick at all. It was such a shock to find him gone. He had the most big beautiful blue eyes! This book has helped me so much in accepting his death, and know he is with me and I will see him and all my pets that I have lost in heaven. Thank you Kim Sheridan for writing this wonderful book!! You give us all hope!!
